PERTINENT COMMENT

COLLEGES, WAR, PROSPERITY

No generation of college men has ever equalled the graduates of the period from 1867 to 1872, measured by their later accomplishments in the world. Will the present college generation prove anew the tendency of history to repetition?

American colleges since the world war have given many evidences of that tendency. They are going through a period almost exactly parallel to that following the civil war.

Men Matured By Service

No sooner had the soldiers been discharged from the armies of the Civil war than there was a great rush to the colleges, many of which had been practically put out of business for lack of students. The colleges had a wonderful period of growth. The men who entered college then, or who returned to complete interrupted courses, were older or mature beyond the years of the average college man. They were better able to assimilate what they studied, and went up against the problems of business life with a better equipment for accomplishment. Take the alumni record of any American college existing at that period. Follow its alumni as lawyers, doctors, preachers or business men. That generation of college men, taken as a whole, has had no equal.

Capacity Taxed

Colleges all over the country have been swamped with students the past two years. The only exceptions are the few high grade institutions which, like Pomona college, limit the number of matriculants to what can be properly cared for with the equipment and teaching force available. But there is no satisfaction to such an institution in being forced to turn away as many applicants as are accepted.

Unprecedented demands upon these colleges for the education of the young people of the country have meant acute financial difficulties. During the war the colleges yielded to more pressing claims for financial assistance. Their efforts to build up endowment and improvement funds were halted rather than compete with war benevolences. Being called upon suddenly to do double duty, without appreciable increase of income, most of them have done their best to meet the demands but have thereby incurred large operating deficits. At Pomona, for instance, the annual deficit is $65,000. Unless that situation can be remedied there will be a large mortality among colleges within a few years.

Raising Funds

Some eastern colleges have met the situation by raising large sums of money for endowment and building. Their problem is easier than that of western colleges, principally because of larger and older alumni bodies. The alumni of the older colleges have been out in the world long enough to make their mark, and are so situated that they can contribute largely or influence large gifts to their alma mater. Many of them represent a background of wealth and power.

Western colleges are newer and their alumni younger. More than one-half of Pomona's alumni have graduated since 1914. Obviously, the large financial backing which such an institution requires must come from other sources. Such a college as Pomona fills an educational need which is not met by state or technical institutions. It cannot be allowed to close nor contract its program.

Ford Gasoline Tank Is Used For a Still

With a still going full blast and a quantity of liquor in all stages of manufacture in their possession, two men were taken into custody Tuesday afternoon by federal and local officers. They gave the names of Isaac Barnett and Gordon Parker, and were occupying the house at 354 Sycamore place.

The case was worked up by local officers, Marshal A. M. Udell and Deputy George Cox being assisted by Jack Mitchell who lives next door to the scene of the operations. When they had convinced themselves after a watch of ten days that a bootlegging plant was in operation they called in the federal officers. The raid was officially conducted by Robert C. Avery, prohibition enforcement officer, and federal agent C. A. Parker.

Gang Work Suspected

At least three men in addition to those arrested are supposed to have been implicated in the business. They have been seen in town but usually at night. One feature which convinced the officers of the irregular character of the outfit was the fact that all their going and coming was under cover of night. Their operations in the house were mostly at hours of the night when they thought everybody else was asleep.

The first tip the local officers had that the place would bear watching was from Mrs. Jackson, sister of Dr. Anna Small, from whom the house was rented. Returning to the house for some luggage after the new tenants had moved in, her suspicions were aroused by the peculiar odor, the source of which, however, she did not discover. Through co-operation of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Marshal Udell was able to set a watch in a rear room of their house which furnished corroborative evidence.

Gas Tank Still

The boiler of the still was made out of a Ford gasoline tank. It was connected with several yards of copper tubing coiled for a condenser, and a crude charcoal filter was rigged up. The stuff was strong enough to eat the galvanized coating off the tank.

In answer to the claim of one of the pair that they were just making a little stuff for their own use, Mr. Avery said:

"You don't mean to say you are drinking this stuff, yourselves! Not on your life. You would be dead long before you drank as much as you have on hand here."

In addition to 15 gallons of the booze, the officers found about 40 gallons of sour mash. Marshal Udell said the offensive smell defied his power of description. The liquor was taken along with the still and other equipment as evidence in the case. The sour mash was simply dumped in the Little Santa Anita creek nearby.

The operators of the plant were taken to Los Angeles by the federal officers. As they had an auto of their own, one of the men was allowed to drive it with Judge W. H. Fraser accompanying him as passenger and guard.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

An election for School Trustee will be held the last Friday in March, (March 31) at the school house. A trustee will be elected for a term of three years. Polls will be open from 1:30 P. M. to 5:30 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hamane are the proud parents of a baby girl, born on Tuesday.

Miss Rogers New Librarian

Library Board Makes Selection From Large List of Applicants For Position

Miss Elsie W. Rogers of Los Angeles was chosen to fill the position of librarian in the Sierra Madre public library, made vacant by the resignation of Miss Minna Wolff. The choice was made at a special meeting of the board of library trustees held Wednesday evening.

Miss Rogers has had two years of practical experience in the Pasadena Public Library, and has spent six months in the Los Angeles Library Training school. She comes highly recommended by Miss Marion Morton, principal of the training school and by Miss Jeannette Drake, city librarian of Pasadena.

The selection of Miss Rogers was made from a large list of applicants. The board members feel that she is the best obtainable at a salary within the limited resources provided by the municipal library fund. They are of the opinion that Miss Rogers will prove highly satisfactory in the position, although any librarian would have a difficult task as a successor to the excellent record made by Miss Wolff.

C. S. Foxworthy of Omaha was a caller at the News office last Friday. Mr. Foxworthy is enjoying a vacation with headquarters in Pasadena. As manager of the Western Newspaper Union Branch at Omaha he is naturally interested in country newspaper work and his fraternal call was most enjoyable.

the need and remedy for such situations:

"We are willing to give our property and even our lives when our country calls in time of war. Yet the call of Christian education is today of even greater importance than was ever the call of the army or the navy. I say this because we shall probably never live to see America attacked from without, but we may at any time see our best institutions attacked from within.

"As the great life insurance companies are spending huge sums on doctors, scientific investigations, and district nurses to improve the health of the nation, so we business men should spend huge sums to develop those fundamental religious qualities of integrity, industry, faith and service, which make for true prosperity. I repeat, the need of the hour is—not more factories or materials, nor more railroads or steamships, nor more armies or navies—but rather more Christian education. This is not the time to reduce investments in schools and colleges at home, or in Y. M. C. A. and similar work in China, Japan, Russia or South America. This is the time of all times to increase such subscriptions."

President Blaisdell has a large problem at Pomona. He has the vision to attack it in a large way. When he announces his plan for meeting it he will deserve the hearty and united support of all who can in any way assist in carrying out those plans.

Travel Lecture for Club Night

Musical Numbers Also Offered As Attraction on Community Club Program

Travel pictures and a talk by Mr. E. J. Webster, together with very attractive musical and entertainment numbers are offered for the March meeting of the Sierra Madre Community Club in the Congregational Church next Thursday evening, March 16. Mr. Webster has travelled all over the world and has a choice collection of stereopticon slides with which he will illustrate his remarks.

Songs by Curtis Goodenow and piano numbers by Mrs. Cecil M. Deist will make up the musical portion of the program. Mrs. Deist holds a degree from the Chicago Conservatory of Music and her playing invariably wins the approval of her hearers. While she has been teaching a number of pupils since coming to Sierra Madre she has never been heard publicly. Lovers of good piano music cannot afford to miss hearing her. Mr. Goodenow's splendid baritone voice has been heard but little in Sierra Madre. In college and later in professional work he has had a great deal of training and experience, and his songs are sure to make a hit.

An additional entertainment number is promised but cannot be named at this time. It is a novelty quite different from any heretofore offered on club programs.

The dinner at 6:30 will be served by the Ladies of the Aid Society. The unexpected size of the crowd at the last meeting proved the wisdom of securing tickets early. They may be secured in advance from S. R. G. Twycross, Daniel Shaffer, W. S. Hull, George Norris, George S. Anderson or at the News office.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR MRS. EMMERSON

Mrs. E. N. Emmerson was the recipient of cordial greetings Wednesday on the occasion of her 84th birthday anniversary. At the weekly prayer meeting of the Congregational Church, which she attends regularly, she was presented with a beautiful bouquet from the ladies of the Aid Society. Within the bouquet was a beautiful parchment folder, with illustrations and appropriate sentiment. To this was added a greeting from the pastor, Rev. W. J. Thompson, expressing the sentiment of Mrs. Emmerson's friends as follows:

Your hosts of friends in Sierra Madre rejoice with you in your eighty-fourth anniversary. In the First Congregational Church you are regarded with special admiration and appreciation. Your keen mind, tender sympathies and sane outlook on life reveal a helpful and winsome Christian character. Your loyalty to Christ and his church proves the crowning illustration of spiritual grace. You are a real inspiration to your pastor, who prays:

May your eventide be bright
With joy and peace and hope and light;
May you know love's sweet carressing
And receive God's richest blessing.

Leslie B. Henry to Be Speaker

Chamber of Commerce Will Hold Community Dinner On March 21

A community dinner will be held March 21 at the Woman's Club House under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, it was announced this morning by Mrs. J. H. Wright, chairman of the dinner and luncheon committee. Leslie B. Henry of Pasadena will be the principal speaker for the occasion. There will also be another "imported speaker," and a brief resume of the accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce during the last few months will be given by a local speaker. The object of the meeting is to acquaint the community with the work of the Chamber of Commerce and not to campaign for memberships. Mrs. Wright said this morning, and no non-members will be embarrassed by solicitation.

Mr. Henry is well known in Sierra Madre both personally and as a war work speaker and many of his admirers will be glad of the opportunity to hear him again. Mr. Henry's subject will be "General Business Conditions and Modern Financial Problems." Several Sierra Madre business men have heard Mr. Henry give this address at business men's luncheons and vote it the best of his repertoire of popular lectures.

Mrs. Wright is in communication with another widely known speaker and leader in community betterment and when he is secured it is believed that a program will be scheduled that will meet the approval of all.

Because of the size of the kitchen at the woman's club house, the sale of places will be limited and those desiring reservations should place their order the first of next week, either with the secretary or Mrs. Wright.

PICKPOCKET LIFTS MRS. SMITH'S PURSE

Mrs. Clara L. Smith, proprietor of Orchard Camp, was the victim of a pickpocket, presumably working in a crowd in the Los Angeles Pacific Electric station Tuesday evening. She remembers having taken the purse from an inner pocket as she stood waiting for the Sierra Madre car, and then dropping it into the deep outer pocket of her leather coat. When she reached Sierra Madre the purse was gone. After being through the hazards of mountain snows and the winter deluge, and having her camp bungalow burned, Mrs. Smith thought the pickpocket showed a mean disposition in singling her out, but took the loss philosophically. The loot consisted of the purse, a handkerchief and a powder puff almost ready for retreading.

Mrs. Smith says she found the impression abroad in Los Angeles that the fire which destroyed her bungalow had wiped out the camp. It was impossible for prospective visitors to get first hand information because telephone communication has not been restored. She wants the world to know that Orchard Camp is doing business just the same as before the fire, the only discomfort falling to the lot of the proprietor rather than the guests.

Officials See New Machine

Another High Speed Factory Sewing Machine Perfected by C. F. Gray

C. F. Gray of Auburn Avenue enjoyed a call on Wednesday from Mr. Taylor, head of the sales department in the executive offices of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, New York, and Mr. O. C. Wiechmann, general agent for the Pacific Coast with headquarters in San Francisco. Mr. Taylor is an old personal friend of Mr. Gray's, having had adjoining offices in the Singer headquarters.

The visitors were much interested in a new general purpose high speed sewing machine perfected by Mr. Gray. The model has just been completed so they were able to see it in operation before being packed for shipment to the Singer factory for final approval of the company heads.

The new machine does both leather and cloth work at a much higher speed than any machine on the market sewing all classes of goods. Heretofore it has been necessary to have special purpose machines to attain high speeds for the different materials. Both the visitors were greatly astonished at the performance of the machine. They predict that it will meet with great success and add another to the long list of winners developed by Mr. Gray in the last fifteen years at his little shop on Auburn Avenue. It is not generally known that the shop was long ago entered officially on the company records as "Factory No. 11."

AUTOMOBILE BRIDGE OPEN FOR TRAFFIC

Azusa Pomotronic.—The bridge across the San Gabriel river on the foothill boulevard was repaired in time to be opened for traffic at 4:30 p. m., Wednesday, March 1. There were as many as thirty autos waiting to cross when the word was given by the officials in charge, some of them having been waiting the word for several hours.

Motorists will welcome the restoration of the bridge to a serviceable condition, as traffic has been tied up for several weeks, necessitating a long and tiresome detour by way of Montebello to reach Los Angeles and vice versa.

BIG NEW LATH HOUSE ADDED AT NURSERY

Three acres of ground will be covered by the new addition to the lath house equipment of the Bassett & Washburn Nursery, on which work was started this week. This will bring the total area of the lath houses to approximately 20 acres.

This establishment was already the largest Kentia palm nursery in the world. The new Central Avenue expansion shows the continued faith of the proprietors in the future of the business. For in spite of its large size and the fact that it has been developing for a period of several years the nursery has been shipping palm stock only a comparatively short time.

Social Activities of the Week

Reported by Mrs. W. R. Lees

NOTE: Items for this column should be in the hands of the reporter not later than Tuesday evening to insure insertion and avoid inaccuracies. Items turned in after ten-thirty Wednesday morning will not appear in the current week's issue. Phone Green 79.

Mrs. Annie Synar spent the week end at First Water Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Farmer and children of South Lima Street spent Sunday at Catalina Island.

The Modern Priscillas will meet with Mrs. Donald C. Ashmore on Thursday, March 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Farman, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sadler, motored to Riverside on Sunday and enjoyed dinner at the Mission Inn.

Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger attended a reciprocity day program today given by the Browning Club in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Fred Edwards and little daughter Frances of Los Angeles spent last Friday with her sister, Mrs. Henry Olsen.

Mrs. Grace Yarrington entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. F. L'Ecluse and Mr. and Mrs. Edward McIntosh at Long Beach one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McIntosh of Lawrence, Mass., who have spent several weeks at Hotel Mira Monte, left this week for San Diego. After taking a trip up the coast they expect to start east about the first of April.

The girls of the Order of St. Catherine will hold a very important meeting at the home of Mrs. C. Hall Perry, 118 East Laurel Avenue, on Tuesday evening, March 14th. Special Lenten work will be started.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Congregational Church will hold their regular meeting in the parlors of the Church, Tuesday, March 14 at 3 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend this important meeting.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church held an all-day session Tuesday in the church parlors. A pot-luck luncheon was served at 12 o'clock. Hostesses were Mrs. W. S. Hull and Mrs. P. C. Kortkamp. The morning was devoted to quilting and in the afternoon a business meeting was held.

Wednesday afternoon the "Get-to-Gether Club" of the Eastern Star Chapter met at the home of Mrs. Spencer Howard. The time was spent in making garments for new born babies at the county hospital. These meetings are held monthly at the homes of different members, and are always spent in doing philanthropic work for some institution. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames Howard, Hill and Keith.

A pretty dinner party was given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Barrett in honor of the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Hilda. The dinner table was particularly attractive with a center piece of American beauty roses with place cards and favors to carry out the same design. A feature of the dinner was the birthday cake with seventeen American beauty candles, which was cut by Miss Barrett. Guests were Betty Shaw, Viola Fennel, Louise Pearson, Arthur Johnson, Perry Cover, William Olsen and Warren Scoville of Pasadena.

Miss Mamie Welch of San Francisco, a former resident of Sierra Madre, is the guest of Mrs. V. E. Colwell, 451 West Central.

Mr. Charles Laidlaw and sisters, Misses Jennie and Margaret Laidlaw, who have been spending the last three months in touring California and visiting their brother, William Laidlaw, left this week for their home in Hoopeston, Illinois.

Mrs. N. Madge Long, Worthy Matron and Charles Frederick Vannier, Worthy Patron of Sierra Madre chapter, Eastern Star, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Steinberger and H. E. Long, attended the meeting of Pasadena and Southland Chapters, Tuesday evening, the occasion being the annual visit of the Grand officers.

The Sierra Madre Chapter, O. E. S., combined with Monrovia Chapter in entertaining the Grand Matron, Maud Dazell Bradley, and Associate Grand Patron, Ernest E. Moon, and other grand officers with a delightful banquet at the Masonic Hall in Monrovia last Thursday night. Worthy Matron N. Madge Long and Worthy Patron Charles Frederick Vannier, with the officers and a number of members of Sierra Madre chapter, motored over to attend. Following the banquet, the regular work of the order was exemplified by the Sierra Madre delegation for the Grand Officers, this being the annual visit of the Grand Worthy Matron. A handsome gift of linen was presented to her from the two chapters and she graciously expressed her thanks and followed these remarks by one of the interesting talks for which she is noted.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

The Christian Science Society of Sierra Madre announce a lecture to be given by John W. Doorley, C. S. B. of London England, on Saturday evening March 18, in the Woman's Club House. Mr. Doorley is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, of Boston. The public is invited, there being no admission charge.

The ash has been less noticed for its autumnal foliage than it deserves. The richest shades of plum-color to be seen—becoming by and by, or in certain lights, a deep maroon—are afforded by this tree. WOMAN'S CLUB NEWS

By Press Chairman, Mrs. Besse Palmer Rhodes.

Regular Meeting, Birthday Party

All who desire to attend the club luncheon on Monday, the 13th have of course secured their tickets before this, since after this evening, Friday the 10th, they will not be on sale. Prominent citizens of our own city having been secured as luncheon speakers, this luncheon should have a record attendance. Anticipating that a goodly portion of those present will be business men, luncheon will be served promptly at 12:30 in order that the noon hour may be advantageously used. It will be remembered that these luncheons and programs are open to the public, for the small price of a luncheon ticket. On this occasion J. D. Mackerras will speak on "Sanitation" and F. B. Seeley on "Current Events." The Club is pleased to offer as the afternoon speaker, Harry F. Atwood, well known author, who will speak on "The Constitution." A prominent minister speaks thus of Mr. Atwood's writings: "In these days of unrest and confusion, Mr. Atwood calls us back to God, and in fine fashion reminds us of the reliance placed upon God by the founders of our Republic and the leaders of our people. His rich and chaste words are a strong tonic to faith and hope and inspire all readers to declare anew, 'In God We Trust.'" In consideration of the men who may wish to hear Mr. Atwood's address, the afternoon session will begin at 2 o'clock and the regular club business will follow the speaking, instead of preceding it, as usual. This being so near the 11th, the date of the 13th anniversary of the club, appropriate celebration has been planned in its honor, and your "presents" are requested. A tiny silk bag containing an appropriate verse, has been mailed to each club member, with the request that she place in it a coin, for each year the club is old, and bring it with her Monday, as a birthday gift. This money will be applied exclusively to the club debt, and it is hoped that through love of the club and in appreciation of what it stands for in the community, much of the "coin" may assume the dollar size. This privilege of giving is not limited to club members only, but is all inclusive. A delectable portion of the celebration will be a large birthday cake, which will be cut and served to all present.

Social Evening

In an effort to have the club's "at home" on an evening when no civic meeting is demanding attendance, the social evening has been changed, for this month, from the third Thursday to the third Friday, March 17. This being the evening of St. Patrick's Day, decorations and all social activity of the evening will be appropriately carried out, and the request comes from the hostesses, that guests may add to the color scheme and incidentally to the fun by "The Wearin' o' the Green." There will be cards, both bridge and 500, and prizes will be awarded for the high scores. There will also be good music for dancing and refreshments will be served. Hostesses will be Mrs. Fred Griebel, Mrs. C. B. Klunk, Mrs. J. F. Sadler and Mrs. W. R. Lees.

JUBILEE SINGERS

NEXT WEDNESDAY

For the benefit of the public school athletic fund an entertainment will be given in the Woman's Club House next Wednesday evening, March 15, by the Western Jubilee Singers. These colored musicians are well known and always make a hit. The organization has been here before, though not exactly the same personnel. They give a program full of harmonious melody such as none but their race can equal. In addition to numbers by the male quartet, there will be readings and musical selections by individual artists.

PARENT-TEACHERS'

ASSOCIATION MEET

The Parent-Teachers Association will hold its regular meeting in the Kindergarten Building on Wednesday March 15th, at 3 P. M. Mrs. Nina C. Carson State Nurse for Southern California who gave us such a splendid address in January, will speak to us again concerning Child Welfare.

Mrs. R. J. Lord, President.

A Small Anarchist.

The youngster we recently told of who asked his father why God hadn't given the zebra stars as well as stripes has a match in the little girl who wrote this description of the ark: "Overhead was a gorgeous rainbow and beneath it the little ark rode proudly over the waters with smoke pouring from her smokestack and the United States flag flying at the bow."—Boston Transcript.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Welsher the ladies of St. Rita's parish will have a cooked food sale at his store the third Saturday of each month during the year. Herewith our thanks to him for this and previous favors.—The Committee.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XXXIX.—DAKOTAS

NORTH and South Dakota formed the northern section of the Louisiana Purchase by the acquisition of which from France the United States nearly doubled its size.

The Dakotas were the last states which were made up wholly from this purchase, to become a part of the Union. Shortly after its acquisition, the Lewis and Clark expedition was sent out to explore it and they spent their first winter in 1804 near Mandan. The British had many fur posts in this region, and as they considered it part of British territory, they built a fort in 1810 near Pembina. British rights, however, were withdrawn in the Treaty of 1818, which established the formal boundary between the United States and Canada.

THE Sioux Indians, who had been very hostile toward white invasion finally ceded a portion of their land to the government in 1851. This was opened up to settlement and thus immigration was started in this part of the country. In 1854 the section west of the Missouri river became a part of Nebraska territory, while the portion to the East was attached to Minnesota. However, in 1861, the separate Territory of Dakota was organized. Population did not increase rapidly, until 1866, due to the warlike demonstrations of the Indians.

It is from these Indians that the name Dakota comes. But it was not until 1889 that the Dakota territory was divided and formed into two states. To avoid any feeling of jealousy as to which was made a state first, the two bills were signed by President Harrison after they had been shuffled up and were then re-shuffled so it is not known which was signed first. Their areas are about the same, North Dakota containing 70,837 square miles, while South Dakota has 77,615 square miles. The population is also about equal and each is entitled to five presidential electors. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1922

CITY CLUB INAUGURATES "SUBURBAN DAY"

"Suburban Day," the first, will be celebrated at the Los Angeles City Club, top floor of the Chas. C. Chapman building, Eighth and Broadway, Los Angeles, March 11, from twelve to two o'clock.

There will be the usual sixty-cent lunch, begun promptly at twelve, which precedes all the big forums of that organization with music and speeches by representative men of the Los Angeles Metropolitan District.

A Zoning conference of the Los Angeles Metropolitan District has been called to follow immediately after, from two to six o'clock.

Prof. Harold F. Stonier, Dr. Carol Aronovici, George A. Damon, Gordon Whitnall, City Manager Reeves of Glendale, Dr. George P. Clements, H. T. Cory, Engineer of the Ramos Verde project, and others will speak at greater or less length at the "Suburban Day" celebration upon topics of particular interest to Los Angeles suburbanites.

"Down Town" Day once a week has long been a special feature of this popular forward looking club. "Suburban Day" once a month, is the logical expansion of the same urge for an intelligent preparedness consonant with our growth, and commensurate with its rapidity and extent.

"Suburban Day" next Saturday will be the first opportunity the small towns environing Los Angeles have had to sit in the general councils of the great community in which they are an important part and growing more so all the time. It is now their "day in court." They need no longer be "silent" partners. They will be bound closer and closer together, the suburbs and the big city alike, in intelligent co-operative efficiency and preparedness for the mighty progress which surely awaits this rich and resourceful section.

Everyone knows of the wide and weighty influence for civic betterment exerted by the Los Angeles City Club. There are about four thousand members of the Men's City Club and affiliated Women's City Club. And with the four or five hundred suburban members brought together and organized in a Suburban Section of the Club that splendid influence will be expanded to the uttermost bounds of the environs of the great city also.

The members of the Inter-City and Suburban Committee are Wyllys S. Abbot, of the Abbot Kinney Company of Venice, Chairman; Rev. Dana Bartlett of Beverly Hills, Chas. C. Chapman of Fullerton, George A. Damon of Pasadena, Geo. Dunlop of Hollywood and Lamanda Park, Lyle Pendergast of Los Angeles and Vernon, Secretary.

Thirty-three of the seventy-five suburban towns around Los Angeles, and whose interests are more or less interlocked, are already represented upon the committee and its Advisory and Auxiliary Boards. At least a dozen more will have representatives appointed next Saturday, making about fifty in all, a two-thirds majority of Los Angeles' entire municipal suburban environment.

Water service, sewage disposal, vehicular highways and interurban transportation are all becoming more and more of general, intercommunal importance and interest as our towns and cities here grow in population and crowd closer together. An inter-city and suburban town organization for mutual acquaintance and the intelligent discussion of interlocking enterprises and co-operative effort is fast becoming more and more a necessity.

: BY THE WAY :

They called them "bucket shops" because the sucker orders and accompanying cash were dumped into a bucket instead of executed in the market. But that was before the invention of the vacuum cleaner and correspondingly thorough methods of separating the dupes from their money.

Little girl lying with closed eyes propounded this: "Daddy, wouldn't it be funny if I tried to open my eyes and couldn't? I wouldn't know whether I was dead or asleep!" That's just the trouble with a lot of grownups—not enough vision to tell whether they are asleep or dead, going or coming, standing or lying completely down on the job.

The attitude of a customer going out of a store is even more important than coming in. He may have made a purchase—but if the goods or treatment were not to his liking he may never buy there again. In a small place that may mean a customer driven out of town. Verily, no one is free from responsibility to the community.

No matter what you may have thought of your vocal powers, Mr. Kirchhofer will make you believe you can sing—and the first thing you know you will be carrying a part in a grand opera chorus. Try it at the Community Sing next Monday.

Frost's Purifying Qualities.

By its formation on trees and plants frost has an important beneficial effect, as its purifying quality is exercised on the air. Science tells us that the filtering of all the air that passes through foliage gathers the nitrogenous gases given off, which nitrogen, being returned again to the soil, acts as nutriment to vegetation. —S. K. Pearson Jr., Co-operative Observer, United States Weather Bureau, in New York Post.

Song Came From His Heart.

George Matheson, a young minister of promise, who wrote "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go" was engaged to be married, and unexpectedly he went totally blind. He told his sweetheart that he thought he ought not to press his claim on her promise, and gave her permission to cancel it if she wished. She did, and it was then that Matheson wrote: "O love that will not let me go, I cast my weary soul on Thee."

HANDICRAFT FOR GIRLS

By DOROTHY PERKINS

(Copyright by A. Neely Hall.)

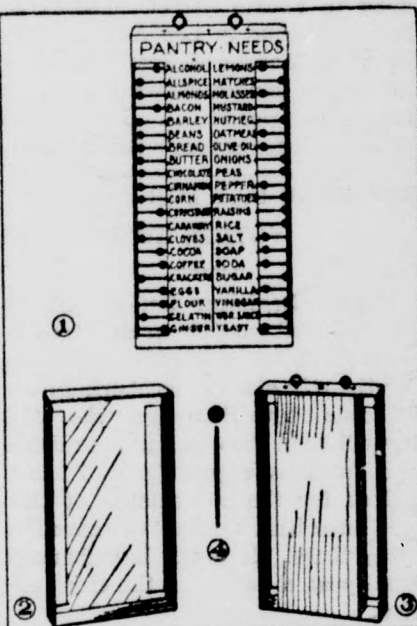

FOR MOTHER'S PANTRY.

Possibly you share mother's interest in the pantry. If you do, you can appreciate the value of the two conveniences illustrated.

The pantry-needs board in Fig. 1 keeps tab on pantry supplies.

Get a cardboard shoebox, and along each side cut a slot $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches wide, extending it to within $\frac{1}{2}$ inch of one end and 1 inch of the other end (Fig. 2). Then cut a piece of board of the right length to fit between the ends of the cover, and of the right width to fit between the slots (Fig. 3), and fasten this between the ends with tacks.

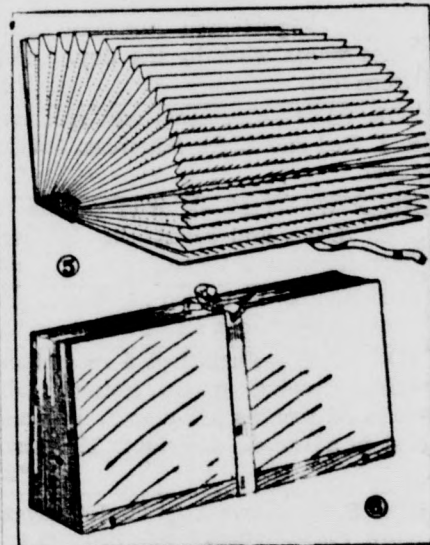

Along the side edges of the cover mark off points $\frac{1}{2}$ inch apart, the full length of the slots, and at these points pierce holes large enough for toothpicks to stick through. Then get some glass beads and toothpicks (Fig. 4), stick the toothpicks through the holes in the side edges of the cover, slip a bead over each, and run the toothpicks across the slot and in between the cardboard and the block fastened back of it. Coat the tooth-pick ends with glue, and drive tacks through the cardboard into the wood block backing, just below the end of the toothpicks, for supports.

On the cardboard, between the slots, and on a line with the toothpicks, the names of pantry supplies should be lettered as shown in Fig. 1. This list suggests some 42 articles, but of these there may be several which mother does not keep on hand, and there may be a few not listed which she does use; the list can be edited to suit.

Screw a couple of screweyes into the top edge of the board for hangers.

When you have hung the pantry-needs board upon nails on the wall, slide the beads to one side, farthest from the supply names; then, to mark articles for ordering, slip the beads opposite the names close up to the lettering.

A file to hold recipe clippings, like that shown in Figs. 5 and 6, requires a quire of envelopes. If you can get long envelopes, 9 or $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches in length, they will be best. Prepare a pair of covers, using two pieces of cardboard $\frac{1}{4}$ inch wider and longer than the envelopes, for front and back covers, and a strip of the same length by $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches wide for the backbone. Place the narrow strip between the wide pieces, and hinge the three together with a linen strip lapped as shown in Figs. 6 and 7. At each tape or ribbon to the narrow strip, and cut it to the right length to pass around the covers, and tie in a bow (Fig. 6).

Each envelope should bear a recipe classification, Breads, Cake, Candies, Desserts, etc., lettered upon the flap (Fig. 8). The envelopes may be placed loosely between the covers, as shown in Fig. 5, but it is a better plan to punch holes through each (Fig. 8), and holes in corresponding positions through the covers (Fig. 7), and bind all together with cord (Fig. 6).

As a finishing touch, cover the cardboard covers with paper.

Boston Folk Thought This Was a Free Show

This crowd jammed Newspaper Row, in Boston, when a handcuff artist gave a free exhibition of his skill, freeing himself from a straightjacket as he was lowered headfirst from a roof. The joke was that it wasn't altogether free, for a big collection was taken up for a charity fund.

Leaders of India's Non-co-operative Movement

Here is the first photograph to reach this country of leaders of the non-co-operative congress, comprising volunteers from all parts of India, who are now in session discussing the formation of an independent India. The non-co-operators have grown to tremendous power since the arrival of his royal highness the prince of Wales.

NEW COMMITTEES

NAMED FOR C. OF C.

The third business men's luncheon was held at the woman's club house at noon Tuesday and many new faces appeared around the table. The luncheon began promptly at 12 o'clock as scheduled and was dismissed at 1 o'clock so that the men were able to return to their work on time. The Los Angeles speaker who was to talk on hotels failed to materialize but several other matters were discussed and the meeting did not lack for important considerable progress on the proposed direct road to Pasadena and Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger made a report on the community sing and asked that the Chamber of Commerce take charge of it. The matter was referred to the board of directors.

Several new committees were named at the luncheon Tuesday. They were Central Avenue lighting committee, with Gerald Farman, chairman, the other members to be appointed later; luncheon and dinner committee, with Mrs. J. H. Wright, chairman, other members to be appointed as needed, and the minute men's committee with a chairman and ten members. The committee is as follows: J. W. Krauter, chairman; Fred Griebenow, Geo. Norris, Frank Hildebrandt, Roland Adams, A. T. Gay, C. A. Cooper, E. A. Bradford, Mrs. Geo. Oswald, O. E. Emley and Argyle Tully.

Seven representatives of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce attended the monthly associated chamber of commerce of the San Gabriel Valley which was held at Glendora Tuesday night. A good program followed the supper which was served by the ladies of the Glendora M. E. Church. Those who attended from Sierra Madre were George Norris, Woodson Jones, DeWitt Jones, J. W. Krauter, Joe Sadler and Dean Shaw.

The Sierra Madre name plates for auto license plates were sold out quickly by the Sierra Madre Garage. They are a good form of town advertising. Mr. Steinberger says additional supplies will be secured only as orders are placed with him.

COL. GARLAND'S CAREER

ENDS IN THE SOUTH

Word has been received of the death of Col. William M. Garland, a striking character who had a varied business career in Los Angeles and in various cities of the east and South. A few years ago he married Miss Annis Coffey, a resident of Sierra Madre and a sister of Dr. Titian Coffey of Los Angeles.

Col. Garland prided himself on being an important bit of the "Old South," head of the Klu Klux Klan and concerned in various other historical incidents. He engaged in the promotion of various companies, specializing in transportation enterprises. He was 75 years old at the time of his death.

VETERAN OF TWO

WARS PASSES AWAY

John J. Kelleher passed away on Sunday at his home, 184 W. Montecito. He was 49 years of age and a veteran of the Spanish-American and World Wars. He was a sufferer from tuberculosis and had been an inmate of the Soldier's Home at Sawtelle for some time. Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday at St. Rita's Church by Rev. Father Woodcutter. Mr. Kelleher is survived by his wife and four children.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Bowmer, 227 S. Baldwin, this morning, a son.

The Colonial Theater of Monrovia has placed a box with a supply of their weekly program booklets in the Chamber of Commerce window.

D. W. Ahern of West Laurel was the fortunate winner of a Dodge car in a prize drawing conducted at the K. C., benefit in Pasadena this week.

Mr. C. D. Pettis arrived this morning from New York to spend some time with Mrs. Pettis and their daughter, Mrs. Regua who are wintering in Sierra Madre.

Friends of Mrs. C. E. Cook will be glad to hear that her condition is reported this morning as greatly improved. She suffered a stroke or lesion of the brain on Wednesday which rendered her unconscious and the outcome of which was greatly feared for a time.

Teaching the Bishop.

After evensong, the good bishop took his ease in the country rectory's garden and diverted himself with the company of the rector's little daughter. She asked him many questions, and finally demanded, as bedtime came: "What makes it get dark?" "Can't you," said the bishop, "tell me?" "Oh, yes, I can," she answered, nodding a sage head. "God shuts His eyes."—London Morning Post.

Explaining Word "Ye."

When anyone writes in an antique style the word "ye" is invariably used instead of "the." This is wrong. In the old Saxon alphabet there was one letter that stood for TH, and this letter doesn't look unlike our modern Y. Our ancestors pronounced it "the" in the same way as we do, only in spelling it they ran the T and H into one letter. The Greeks also have a single letter for "th," called theta, which looks like an elongated "O" with a dash across the center.

NOTICE OF SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the qualified electors of Sierra Madre City School District of Los Angeles County, California, that, in accordance with the provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, an election will be held on the 4th day of April, 1922, at the Sierra Madre School House in this School District, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. Supreme Church Architecture.

The Church of St. Peter, considered as the quintessence of church architecture, was completed in its present form early in the Seventeenth century, but it is said to have been originally founded by Emperor Constantine, at the behest of Pope Sylvester I, back in the Fourth century. The dome of the edifice, which has been the cynosure of thousands of pilgrims and tourists, was designed by Michelangelo.

Classifying Girls' Names.

A writer has just issued a list of girls' names and what they stand for in most people's minds. Lucy, he says, suggests to most people a girl who is tender and clinging. Margaret and Elizabeth carry a cross, but bear it with patience and courage. Olive is successful and hard. Susan and Sally are bewitching. Ethel has no imagination. Madge has a brilliant wit. But for a truly womanly woman, says the writer, choose Anne.

Peculiar Currency.

Cowdry shells are still used as money in the East Indies, Siam, and on the west coast of Africa, at the rate of one-two hundredth of a penny each. The teeth of the sperm whales are used as money in Fiji, the white ones being of greater value than the colored variety; while among the South Sea islands red feathers and attractive kinds of stones pass muster as currency.
